1. Legal Consultation

We provide legal consulting services for both individuals and organizations in various fields such as:

Civil

Criminal

Real Estate

Marriage & Family

Corporate – Investment

Finance – Securities

Labour

Intellectual Property

Many others

Our legal consulting activities include consulting on specific cases and regular legal consulting.

Regular legal consulting is a legal service suitable for businesses that frequently require legal advice in the production and business process. When using Vu Le Law's regular legal consulting service, each business will be "tailor-made" according to the business's scale, operating model, and requirements to determine the most suitable regular legal consulting package.

2. Dispute Resolution

Our dispute resolution activities for clients include: participating in pre-litigation dispute resolution (before the parties bring the matter to court or arbitration) and participating in litigation at court or arbitration centers.

For each dispute, we typically perform specific tasks such as:

- Researching and analyzing the advantages, disadvantages, and potential risks for the client, and providing advice on suitable dispute resolution strategies and solutions;
- Drafting and preparing necessary legal documents for the client to resolve the dispute;
- Representing the client in negotiation and settlement with the third party;
- Receiving authorization from the client to represent them in the dispute resolution process at court and arbitration centers;
- Appointing lawyers to protect the client's legal rights and interests at court and arbitration centers.

3. Criminal Law

With experience in participating in criminal cases from the time the case is initiated for investigation, prosecution, and trial, we understand that in most cases, the advice and timely participation of lawyers in the case not only help individuals and organizations have a legal support, ensure their rights and fairness, but sometimes also help them escape legal proceedings, changing the fate of an individual or an organization.

As defense lawyers in criminal cases, we are ready to work with clients to help them receive fair decisions and sentences that are commensurate with the nature and extent of their actions while ensuring compliance with legal regulations.

Vu Le Law is also ready to participate in criminal cases as lawyers protecting the legal rights and interests of victims or other parties involved. We always believe that, regardless of the role in participating in a criminal case, Vu Le Law always strives to be a legal support for clients on the path to seeking justice and fairness in each case.

4. Corporate and Investment

The lawyers and legal experts at Vu Le Law are experienced in advising businesses on legal issues related to their operations or assisting foreign investors in participating in investment activities in Vietnam. We have advised clients in various fields such as banking and finance, real estate, construction, healthcare, entertainment, manufacturing, information technology, and service provision from the early stages of establishing businesses, proposing projects, to the time when businesses and projects develop on a large scale.

With a team of lawyers and consulting experts with extensive experience in investment consulting, Vu Le Law is confident in assisting clients in resolving legal issues when deciding to implement an investment project in Vietnam or establish a business to implement their business plan:

- Consulting on business establishment, applying for an Investment Registration Certificate, including consulting on related licensing conditions, drafting necessary documents related to licensing, and representing investors in the licensing process;
- Providing legal advice after licensing for businesses and investment projects, including the steps to bring businesses into operation and projects into implementation;
- Complying with and managing businesses during operations;
- Restructuring businesses and mobilizing investment capital;
- Adjusting the investment registration certificate and business registration certificate;
- Consulting on other related issues at the client's request.

5. Mergers and Acquisitions (M&A)

Vu Le Law's M&A consulting services support businesses in many aspects, from finding potential partners, assessing the legal compliance of a business/project, advising on transaction implementation plans, to assisting clients in drafting documents and supporting the implementation of procedures to complete an M&A deal. We prioritize assisting clients in assessing factors affecting the deal, especially legal risks, so that clients can make informed decisions to optimize their benefits.

Using our services not only helps clients save time and effort when conducting transactions but also creates a solid legal foundation for their future sustainable development after the M&A process.

We are always ready to accompany clients in the M&A process with the principle of prioritizing economic benefits and legal safety for clients.

6. Intellectual Property

As an Industrial Property Representative Organization and a Copyright and Related Rights Consulting and Service Organization, with a team of personnel with expertise and experience in intellectual property, we are qualified to provide advice, represent clients in registration procedures, complaints, infringement prevention, and handling intellectual property disputes in Vietnam in the following areas:

7. Finance and Securities

With a team of lawyers who are experienced in providing services to clients operating in the finance and securities sector, we are ready to assist clients in dealing with complex legal issues arising daily and issues related to compliance with Vietnamese law.

In the context of many limitations in the legal regulations in these areas, parties participating in this sector have and are facing significant legal risks. With knowledge and experience in finance and securities, we are confident in providing clients with appropriate solutions and plans for each of their situations. The main services that Vu Le Law provides in the field of finance and securities include:

- Providing legal advice on products of securities companies, financial companies, and investment companies;
- Providing legal advice on the issuance of bonds, shares, and other securities;
- Providing legal advice to public companies;
- Other related services.

8. Real estate

Vu Le Law aims to become a legal support for real estate business investors to provide legal advice on implementing activities in this sector in Vietnam. Vu Le Law provides services to clients, including:

- Providing legal advice and drafting contracts related to real estate transactions;
- Consulting and representing clients in obtaining real estate ownership and use certificates;
- Consulting on the establishment, management, and operation of real estate businesses;
- Consulting on transactions and contracts related to real estate assets;
- Other related services.

9. Licensing procedure consulting

With our accumulated experience in assisting clients with administrative procedures in various fields, Vu Le Law is confident that we can help clients save time and costs in obtaining various licenses, including those in the following fields:

- Business, investment, commerce;
- Intellectual property;
- Land, real estate, construction;
- Bidding;
- Healthcare;
- Education;
- Food safety;
- Environment;
- Other fields as requested by clients.
